

WYCOMBE WANDERERS' scheduled game at Southall in the Rothmans Isthmian League tonight (Tuesday) is off. Southall were held to a surprising 1-1 draw by Athenian League side Epsom and Ewell in the F.A. Cup first qualifying round on Saturday and play the replay tonight.

Wanderers have hastily arranged a home friendly for tomorrow (Wednesday) against another Athenian League club, Addlestone (Loakes Park 7.30 pm).

Addlestone are riding high in Division One of the Athenian League this season. They have lost only once in six matches, winning the other five and scoring nine goals in the process. They are second at present, one point behind Egham Town.

The Surrey club captured a notable scalp on Saturday in the F.A. Cup when they beat Southern League Mct. Police 2-0. They also did well in last term's F.A. Vase competition, reaching the quarter-final before going out to Epsom and Ewell.

The Blues' league game at Southall has been re-arranged for November 18.

TONY Horseman is on the brink of a milestone in the 91 year history of Wycombe Wanderers F.C. Having scored Wycombe's only goal in their 1-1 draw at home to Bishop's Stortford on Saturday, 'Bodger' now needs just one more to set up a record 500 goals for the club.

Throughout his 15 seasons with the Blues, Tony has regularly topped the goalscoring charts and he has the staggering total of 290 goals in Isthmian League matches. Bodger himself has no idea how many games he has played in his unbroken stay at Loakes Park but it must be approaching the 1,000 mark.
